

Sierra Vista

A R I Z O N A

EXTRAORDINARY SKIES.
UNCOMMON GROUND.

VISION

Sierra Vista in 2030 is an attractive, vibrant and inviting place to live, work and visit. Our community, with its spectacular natural environment, mountain vistas, military heritage and engaged citizens provides a big city experience in a small town atmosphere.

Residents celebrate the addition of a new town center that marks a renaissance in the City's continued growth and development. The center serves as a gathering place for families and visitors with a variety of restaurants, arts and cultural activities, retail and nightlife in a safe, walkable setting.

Sierra Vista is a place where people are friendly and helpful, ideas are respected, and actions are taken based on collaborative input. We have a diverse population committed to developing and strengthening a healthy community and our citizen-centric city government operates with transparency.

The City's economy is strong and diverse with varied employment opportunities. Fort Huachuca continues to be a key regional and state economic driver, as well as an important U.S. military asset. A strong community-supported economic development program has resulted in new, quality business and industry in Sierra Vista, providing family-wage jobs that retain our youth to stay and raise families of their own. Businesses choose Sierra Vista for our innovative and entrepreneurial spirit and because they are regarded as valued members of the community. Cultural, convention, military, and eco-tourism also strengthen our economy, drawing visitors from around the world.

The success of the regional hospital has spurred the expansion of a thriving cluster of medical firms that serve communities throughout southeast Arizona. Retail activity is healthy, with a mix of independently owned and chain stores in attractive commercial districts. The West End is an appealing community gateway that invites military personnel, visitors, and residents to live, dine, shop and relax in this diverse neighborhood.

We have a bright sense of community, fostered by well-planned, managed growth that fills in, rather than expands the borders of our city. Our attractive neighborhoods, abundant parks, and readily accessible multi-use paths provide both recreation and transportation alternatives. The busy teen center provides safe and fun activities for our community's young people.

Sierra Vista has excellent police and fire protection; dependable water, trash and sewer service; and well-maintained public facilities, roads and airport. Emergency preparedness for a natural or man-made disaster is a high priority. We protect and cherish our natural resources and have cooperatively developed creative conservation and landscaping solutions to moderate water use, and we have preserved our namesake mountain view. We consider community stewardship of the environment to be very important.

Sierra Vista is adjusting gracefully to growth in 2030 and is a delightful place to call home.
